

LA CAMPANA
MCMILIV

Acknowledgments

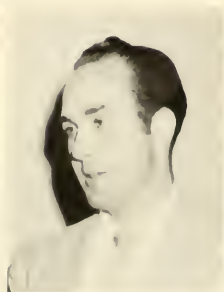

It is not possible for us to thank personally all of those people who have cooperated with the yearbook staff to produce the 1954 La Campana, and so we would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to all of those students and faculty members, as well as the members of the administration, who have put forth their time and effort in order to help make the yearbook a success.

We would like especially to thank Mr. Nicholas Ickes of Colyer-Roux Printing Company for his helpful suggestions and his cooperation, and Harry Ronnie, also of Colyer-Roux, for all the assistance he has given us in preparing the layout. To Chidnoff Studios and their representatives, Irving Lloyd and Jack Mitchell, we extend a sincere "Thanks!"

Bob Finver has worked long and hard helping to provide us with the pictures necessary for your yearbook. Too, we are indebted to Bruce Montoe for his fine sports action pictures. Without the help of these people, and many others like them, we could not have presented this yearbook. Thank you, everyone.

BASEBALL

First in the NJIAC for the third consecutive year, Montclair's baseball team finished the 1953 season with a record of fourteen wins and nine losses. Highlighting the season was an eight game winning streak that included Jim Murray's hall of fame bid as the red and white shut out NCE in the first game of a double-header. Billy Rose clinched the second of the pair with a neat three-hit performance.

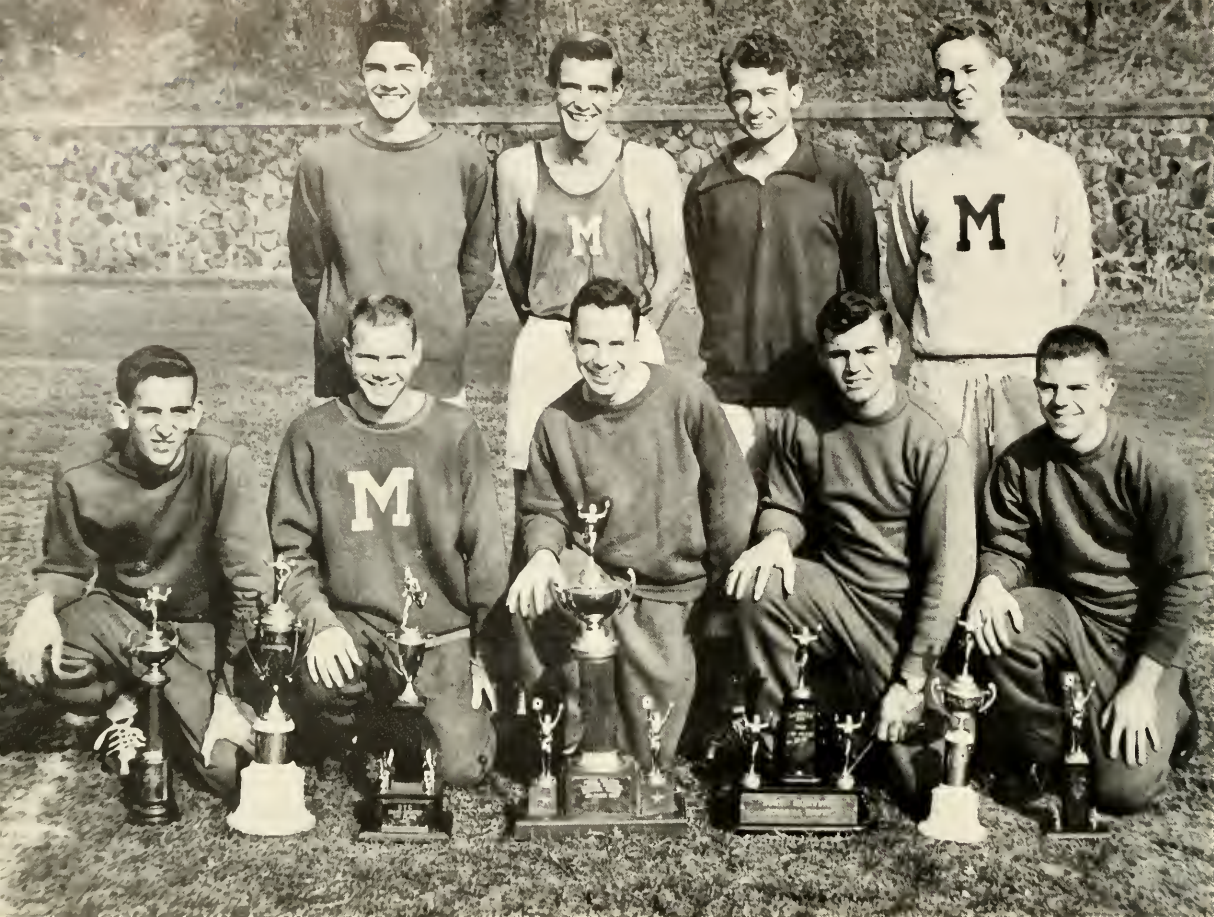

The game of the year was the 1-0 shutout of Seton Hall. Harry Durkee pitched a scoreless tie right down to the wire. It was the last half of the ninth; bases loaded, strike two, then Ken Miscia smacked a solid single to right to drive in the winning run.

Besides the stars of the mound staff, it was good club fielding and the hard hitting of Goldwater, Gray, and Cassavell that combined to make Montclair the conference champs once more.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Completing a record-shattering season, Montclair's cross-country team, under the able tutelage of coach Richard Willing, emerged the powerhouse in eastern small college competition. An outstanding event was the winning of the Collegiate Track Conference championship, followed the next day with the annexation of the AAU Senior title. Added to these triumphs were victories in the Le Moyne Invitation, the fourth in five years, the AAU Junior title, and the Montclair Invitation meet.

Individual honors went to Dave Shotwell, Ed Rams, and Gordon Wallace as they paced the harriers' attack. Shotwell took the AAU Junior crown and Rams turned in a 26:52 on the tough Van Cortland Park course. It was team effort that brought triumph and made this the most successful of seasons.

TRACK TEAM

The undefeated 1953 season was one of the greatest—the Big Red cindersmen won six and tied one. This was the first undefeated season since 1938. However, coach Willing's boys also took the NJIAC championship again, a title that has been with Montclair for six consecutive years.

Three marks to be proud of were chalked up by flash Fred Hazekamp. Larry Valley set a pole vault record and Dick Gaynor, in his final outing, took the two mile jog for the fourth year in a row. Hugh Watson and Hugh Sweeney starred in the hurdles and 880 while Fred Keil excelled in the field events. The frosh accounted for 30 per cent of the total points, showing great promise.

BASKETBALL

Always a challenger for the conference crown, the 1953-54 basketball season opened with a veteran team. Led by seniors Bill Busehke, Ziggy Kwiatkowski, Frank Baldachino, Connie Perry, and junior Bob Nesnay, the boys showed promise when they bested Seton Hall in a pre-season scrimmage.

With the idea that basketball is a game of speed coach George Brown added his own brand of hustle to the squad. This offense-mindedness showed up when the Indians scalped Wilson, 119-95.

In reviewing the season these thoughts appear: . . . Coming soon: a gym to hold more than twenty-five fans . . . "Wait till next year!" . . . trouble with St. Joseph's every year . . . annual banquet with famous speakers . . . "When do we get our letters?" . . . "I Happy" House, stalwart manager . . . FOOTBALL

The Trenton victory made the football season a smashing success. The Lions of State growled with despair as the Indian war party came back with a 34 to 14 win. The red and white, under the coaching of George A. Brown while Mr. Alden Coder is on a leave of absence, ground out 260 yards rushing while limiting the Lions to four scattered first downs. The Trenton trip was a pip.

Montclair opened the season under the lights in a fan-filled stadium that saw the National Aggies lose a bitterly contested encounter, 18 to 13. The highlight of the evening was Frank Costa's 87-yard run which was made possible by great teamwork and some beautiful blocking.

On the road, MSTC blanked Cheney 25 to 0, but then let New Britain romp, 38 to 12. The Big Red then split the next pair by topping Wilson, 32 to 7. They bowed to Montgomery, 25 to 18, then came the season's final with Trenton.

MULTI PASSEBUNT ET SCIENTIA AUGEBITUR

Dear Mr. Hamilton.

You've been our adviser for four years; you've worked hard for us, even when there were other more important things that demanded your time. Most important of all, perhaps, you inspired us with your love of teaching. You helped us with our problems when we were freshmen, and have never ceased to be interested in us and the things we are doing. When we were freshmen, we tried to show our appreciation by electing you our adviser.

Four years have passed since then—class dances are over now, and our college days are at an end. Soon you will see some of us for the last time; oh, we always say that we'll come back to visit, but sometimes circumstances prevent us from carrying out our intentions. So before we leave Montclair State, we'd like to express our gratitude to you once more—by dedicating our yearbook to you.

Sincerely, The Class of 1954

JANUS

Son of Apollo, god of light and youth,
Protector of nations or in war or peace,
Bringer of manners, morals, and of truth,
Guardian of exits and of entrances,
Genius of seasons, years, of months, of days,
You gave us courage when our polar star
Shepherd of men on life's uncharted ways,
Whose candles burn in countless sacred shrines:
You gave us courage when our polar star
Was dimly seen or not perceived at all,
You danced with us at every festival,
You know us as we shall be, were, and are:
Teach us in all we think and feel and do
To seek the good, the beautiful, the true.

SENIORS

GRACE RAINEY

Grace has sometimes felt like a walking financial statement, while working with John to balance the budget. Her work for I.R.C. has provided many interesting programs open to all students. And she makes delicious hors d'oeuvres (as the senior dorm girls can testify).

ANTHONY SCARDAVILLE

If you can't find Tony in the Pub Office, chances are he's out in Lower Center putting up the latest "original Scardaville". Always busy with business, he is one of the mainstays of Pi Omega Pi. "But senior Vice-president was the big job," says Tony.

BARBARA L. OSSENFORT

Bibbs has served in just about every office from President to Secretary to Editor. Her particular talent lies in behind-the-scenes organizing. If there's an adventure stirring, you can bet she'll know something about it.

JOHN V. ROWLEY

A money changer of the old school, John has kept close watch on the budget. As president of Senate and SGA Vice-president, he has had a chance to exercise his practical genius. He beams with smiles as the morning snack bar runs efficiently.

CATHERINE T. KOPP

Her fencing feats have resounded throughout the halls of MSTC. As Jackie's "right hand man" on the yearbook, she inhabits the Pub between bouts. Players, too, has received a boost from Cathy.

JAMES E. SPRY

Jim's executive ability was first noticed when he captured the Sophomore Vice-presidency. This led directly to the highest office for the final two years. Some have attributed Jim's popularity partially to his talent with the drums but he just smiles and says, "I keep cool, that's all."

KATHLEEN DOUGLAS

"It'll get done," is Kathy's favorite expression, whether she's discussing a hectic deadline on the paper or a particularly long Krauss assignment. This she attributes to her faith in people and an optimistic outlook on life. Her friends take good care of her.

JIM LARKIN

Jim joined his class late but made up for lost time by an immediate debut in the lead on the Players' stage. His varied talents and abilities have brought him schoolwide fame. Friends believe that the name of Larkin will carry beyond MSTC.

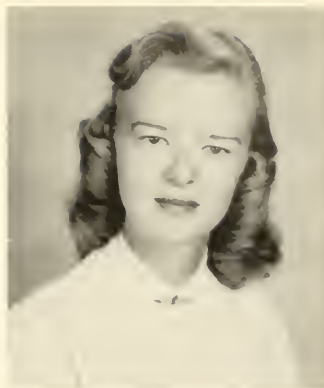

ALICE LORRAINE BROWNE

It was Tweedie who recognized and utilized the potentialities of the Liaison Committee as a coordinating body at MSTC. Her quiet charm has often made a difficult task seem easy. Clio and Citizenship Committee are losing a model of efficiency.

H. FRED KEIL

It has been suggested that Keil be written into the dictionary as a synonym for sports. Four years have netted a solid pile of letters for Fred, but he fondly remembers his Agora and yearbook experiences, too.

DIANE E. SCHORN

F.T.A. and Television are Diane's pet projects. She is an adept organizer who is always on hand to lend a hand. When Shaggy says 135, you're never sure whether it represents the last regional F.T.A. membership, a television shot or the price of a particular item at Tappins.

WILLIAM KUSHNER

On or off stage, Bill is an asset in every Players production. When he comes out of the attic for a "breather", he can be found haunting the speech office. Bill has also earned a fine reputation as one of the three famed Indian cheerleaders.

MARIE J. MARRA

Who but Marie could manage four years of W.A.A. and a hundred other activities besides? If variety is the spice of life, her four years have been well seasoned. At the dorm, it's always open house in Room 206.

JOSEPH WILLIAM SOMMER

Joe is known by his laugh that rocks the school. His varied activities keep him in touch with almost everything new on campus. Joe has grown up with the SGA and Citizenship Committee, and has been avidly searching for a successor to keep things moving.

MARGUERITE JOANNE TINELLI

"Respectfully submitted, Margie Tinelli," appears often on club, class, and SGA records. This efficient secretary is known also for her conversation evenings, about which she tells tales calculated to keep her audience laughing. She has devoted many hours to the class of '54.

EDWARD J. MEADE, JR.

As SGA President, Ed managed to keep track of old business, new business and all that's between. The Citizenship Committee owes much to Chairman, not President, Meade.

CLASS HISTORY

Our days at college are almost over now, and today, we can easily recollect the events of the last four years. It may seem impossible to us now, but with the passage of time, even these cherished memories will fade into near-oblivion. But the preparation for life which our college experiences have given us will remain a firm foundation—a foundation which will support the most magnificent structure we choose to build upon it.

The Class of '34 have been initiators in many ways. We have followed old traditions, but at times, have abandoned the old in favor of the new. It was our class that gave impetus and direction to the Citizenship Committee, one of the more active clubs on campus. Through our Student Government Association, we revoked the charters of inactive organizations, making way for new groups such as Veterans Club, Boosters Association, Square and Folk Dance Club, and Television Club. We sparked the school clean-up campaigns (remember Tony's posters in Lower Center?) and worked hard to get a new lounge. It was our class that succeeded in gaining student representation on faculty committees. We helped to pass the Bond Issue, and after that was accomplished, we put forth our efforts to increase the Life Hall Fund.

Academically, we have lived through the "reform years". Our first surprise came when we discovered that we were required to take a minor in elementary education. Upheavals throughout the country in the field of education, coupled with vicious attacks on the education courses, culminated in the curriculum study which is being conducted at the present time.

Our social activities will be remembered, not only for their success, but also, for the work and anticipation which went into the planning of them. Members of our class somehow always managed to know a man who could "get it for us wholesale". As a result, the balance in our treasury was larger than that of most classes.

In our freshman year, we began breaking precedents with our very first class dance. Most freshman classes before us had informal dances, but the Class of '54 dragged out their ingenuity and their dungarees, and came up with the "Skonk Hollow Stomp". We broke another tradition—that of going off-campus for our Junior Informal; instead of hiring a hall, we stayed home for "A Night With Neptune". "An Evening in Paris", "Tulips and Heather", "The Ski-Spree"—all of our social affairs were great successes. We worked hard for these social get-togethers, but the results made it all worthwhile.

All of us remember our Junior-year boat ride around New York Harbor (we're still wondering what made Larkin welsh on his bet). We enjoyed reading Milt's Disorderly, and were sorry to hear of its demise. We attended the Spanish Festival, and cheered the participants on through their "Grand Tour". Last September, we waved goodbye to Jean, Madeline, and Harry, who won scholarships to France.

As graduation approaches, and with it the end of our college years, we, like Janus, the Roman god of beginnings and endings, cast our eyes backward at our memories and forward to our futures.

SPEECH LABORATORY

The Speech Laboratory is dedicated to assisting those children from the neighboring towns who need help in speech. The student teachers, junior and senior speech majors and minors, are trained by the lab's supervisor, Ellen Kauffman, to analyze the problems of the students and to give them useful speech experience through drill and practice. Students are divided into small groups; these groups include a teacher and a recorder, whose job it is to write phonetically the oral responses of the students.

The Lab has proved to be a great help to many children who need corrective practice for their speech.

Dear Friend:

This is to remind you of the kick-off meeting of the Parents' Division of the Life Hall Campaign to be held in Edward Rucc Hall at 2 p.m. on Saturday, January 9th.

We are looking forward to seeing you and others you have recruited for this campaign on this date, so that we can go forward in this very important venture. The meeting itself will begin promptly at 2 p.m. and we expect to serve coffee and cakes about 3:30 p.m.

We are looking forward to seeing you and your associates on this date.

Very sincerely yours,

Waldron L. Coon

JANUARY 1954

Life Hall Campaign Passes $170,000 Mark

Leaders Give Drive Report

$11,186 Total Raised Through Efforts of Parents

Through the combined generosity of parents, alumni, students, faculty, staff and townspeople, a total of $175,241.42 has been contributed to the campaign for Life Hall, according to an up-to-date report by Miss Grace Freeman, former assemblywoman and chairman of the War Memorial Fund Board. Of this amount, $11,186.00 represents gifts by parents of MSTC students.

Volunteers Numerous

More than 5,000 volunteers in eight different divisions have donated their service since the inception of the drive one year ago. Largest single contribution is the $25,000 additional grant of the Daughters of the Mills Foundation, which is contingent upon raising a balance of the funds required. Under the chairmanship of Joseph Masiello, Jr. of Passaic, a Special Gifts Committee is now approaching individuals and other foundations.

'Second Front' Urged
Parents of students, under the leadership of the Rev. Walden of Bloomfield father of Vicki Coon, lauded the "second front" in the campaign for Life Hall. The campaign is headed by Frankton, report a total of the breakdown of divisions is as follows: (Continued on page 3.)
